Leopard scare at KRS Dam

Brindavan Gardens to open this evening

Forest Staff to patrol Dam premises to reassure tourists

Srirangapatna, Nov. 30 (Vinay Karekura & BCT)- After over a month of being shut for tourists following leopard scare, the famous Brindavan Gardens and the Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam will finally open today evening. Staff from the Forest Department will be deployed as a precaution and to reassure visitors that the Dam premises is safe.

The leopard was first sighted on Oct. 22 and later, it was spotted a couple of times in the North side of the Dam and even the South entrance. The Dam was declared out of bounds for tourists on Nov. 6. Continuously, the Dam and the Brindavan Gardens were closed for 29 days.

Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited (CNNL) Assistant Executive Engineer Farooq Abu confirmed to Star of Mysore this morning that the Dam and the Gardens will open for tourists this evening.

"Based on the direction from the higher authorities of CNNL and the Forest Department, we have arrived at a conclusion to open the Dam. We do not have leopard scare in the South Gate. As North Gate is an issue as the feline has been spotted there a couple of times, we will deploy our staff and Forest Department staff as a reassurance for the tourists," he said.

In all, over 12 to 13 staff will continuously patrol and monitor the Dam premises and even create awareness among visitors. "We are not taking any chances here as personnel from Srirangapatna and Pandavapura will be deployed at the South Gate too," he added.

The crisis situation unfolded with the repeated sightings of the leopard at places where there is constant human movement along the walking paths of the Brindavan Gardens. The North Gate is frequented by tourists as it has the attractive musical fountain and mesmerising lightings.

Ring Road LED light trials tonight

Mysuru, Nov. 30 (RK&BCT)- The trial lighting of LED streetlights on Outer Ring Road will be held tonight and the formal inauguration of the project will be done tomorrow night. Works to light up the 42.5-km long six-lane Ring Road have been completed and from tomorrow, commuters on this perpetually dark stretch can breathe easy and travel safely.

Insulated wires have been laid replacing the wires that have been eaten away by rodents. As the Ring Road has two rows, in all, cabling works have been completed along the 85-km stretch. The project entails fixing of 4,818 bulbs on 2,135 electric poles.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha said that as the cabling works in the 79-km stretch had been completed on Nov. 19, a deadline of Nov. 30 had been issued to the project contractor. "Works along the road have been completed and overhead lines will be drawn at Circles as it will take time to drill holes. We are ready for inauguration tomorrow as promised," he said.

"Many control units of the project had to come from Pune and this would take time. We have made a temporary arrangement of taking the control units from BESCOM (Bangalore Electricity Supply Company Limited) and the fixing along the Ring Road has been done. Tomorrow at 11 am, I will hold a meeting with Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy and other officers and will discuss the completion of finishing works," Pratap Simha said.

MCC Superintending Engineer Mahesh said that the stretch from Manipal Hospital Junction on Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway till Nanjangud Ring Road Junction near APMC will be inaugurated tomorrow night. "We will do the trials tonight as we have finished the fixing of LED bulbs," he said.

Will lights on Ring Road put an end to crimes?

Two miscreants waylay floral decorator; flee with scooter at 1.30 am on Nov. 27

Mysuru, Nov. 30 (RK&KS)- Incidents of miscreants waylaying motorists and robbing them of their valuables, money extortion and other illegal activities are increasing by the day on the Outer Ring Road and victims have said that such incidents were taking place due to the absence of streetlights.

As the entire road is covered in darkness, it is an easy getaway for criminals who operate in gangs. They vanish under the cover of darkness after the crime as the Road has many entry and exit points that lead to smaller lanes and bylanes. Darkness gives a perfect camouflage.

With the project to switch on the streetlights on the Ring Road becoming a reality finally tomorrow, people are hoping that at least there will be a sense of fear in the minds of anti-social elements who can easily be spotted.

The latest crime that occurred on this stretch is on Nov. 27 where two miscreants waylaid a floral decorator and his friend. The robbers threatened them with a knife and made away with their scooter.

19-year-old C.T. Jayakeerthi, a resident of Basaveshwaranagar, who had the task of decorating a hall at Sa.Ra. Convention Hall took his friend Achappanna on his scooter (KA-44-W-8949) to get more flowers.

When they were proceeding towards Bogadi Circle at about 1.30 am, two persons waylaid them near Acharya Kalyana Mantapa, threatened them with a knife and snatched away Rs. 500. They eventually fled with their scooter. A case has been registered at the Kuvempunagar Police Station.

Many accidents, dacoities

According to Police sources, 8 to 10 accidents take place on the Ring Road near Sa.Ra. Convention Hall, 6 to 8 accidents on Bogadi-Ring Road junction and 5 accidents on T. Narasipur-Ring Road junction every year.

This apart, in the last 11 months, 3 dacoity cases, 3 chain snatching cases and 5 mobile phone snatching cases have taken place on the Ring Road during night. Also, incidents of miscreants clicking intimate photos of couples and blackmailing them have also taken place under the cover of darkness.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Nobel Laureate Abhijit Banerjee recently pointed to the growing disconnect between citizens and democracy in India by pointing to the sheer size of Constituencies. The average size of a Constituency is massive, making elected representatives remote figures for most voters. India's population is 20 times that of the UK, yet the UK's House of Commons has 650 members while India's Lok Sabha has 540. This huge gap between the citizen and the MP or MLA leads to what Banerjee calls an "ethnocentrism of indifference", or apathetic voters who opt for caste, religion or other ethnocentric issues simply because they're so cut off.

In Gujarat, students are restless over paper leaks and there have been protests by Anganwadi workers, yet none of these real daily concerns and local issues register on voting day because of the overwhelming popularity of leaders. This style of politics across States is creating high levels of identification with leader — but is it fostering disenchantment with democracy? Since Constituencies are vast and reaching every voter is impossible, it is easier for leaders to communicate through a highly visible leader who offers one-off benefits at election-time. While the level of identification with the leader remains immense, is there alienation with the democratic process as a whole?

Politics driven by dominant leaders is here to stay. Even after six consecutive terms, BJP is looking unassailable in Gujarat, its winning streak almost entirely due to the popularity of the top leadership.

Man fired for not being 'Fun Enough' at work

Paris: A French Court recently ruled that a man fired from a consulting firm for not being fun enough at the workplace has the right to be as boring as he likes.

In 2015, Cubik Partners, a French management consultancy based in Paris, fired Mr. T, whose full name was not disclosed for privacy reasons, arguing that he was difficult to work with, a poor listener and simply boring. The employee, on the other hand, clarified that he simply refused to forcibly partake in various excesses, such as consuming large quantities of alcohol and even sharing a bed with colleagues afterward.

After being dismissed, Mr. T took the company to court, arguing that being fired for essentially not being fun enough for his employer was illegal. After years of legal battles, a top French Court ruled in favor of the fired employee.

Kid made to watch TV as punishment

Beijing: A Chinese couple recently sparked controversy online after punishing their child for watching too much television by making him stay up all night and watch TV.

The couple, who hail from China's Hunan province, reportedly asked their 8-year-old son to finish his homework and be in bed at 8:30. But when they returned later that night they found him on the sofa watching TV even though it was passed his bedtime. They also learned that he had not done his homework, so they decided to teach him a lesson.

Though the boy fell asleep on the couch, he was nudged awake by his mother or father and was forced to watch more television. According to the CCTV timestamp, the boy was finally allowed to go to sleep at around 5 in the morning.

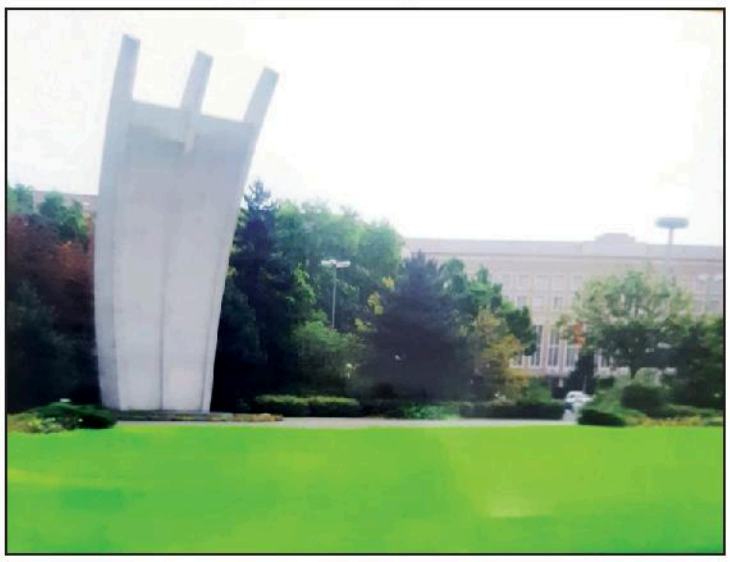
VOICE OF THE READER

Reliving a trip to Berlin



Berlin Airlift Memorial.

Sir,

Girija Madhavan's article titled "The Fall Of The Berlin Wall" published in Star of Mysore dated 17th November, 2022, made for a very interesting read.

I read it over and over again, reliving a trip to Berlin in 2008. The information and the photographs in the article helped me brush up everything I learnt there about the history of the wall.

I recall, with great emotion, the sacrifice of the Allied Air Force personnel. They risked their lives to supply food and other essentials through the three air corridors from West Germany to West Berlin. This was possibly the greatest peacetime supply operation in history.

The Berlin Airlift Memorial showing three fingers like a fork with three prongs represents the three air corridors that were used. The names of the brave airmen inscribed at the base of the memorial have a very sombre and touching effect on everyone that makes a visit.

Rest in peace, you brave men.

Accused in kidnapping case jumps from moving Police vehicle, dies

A scene at Yalandur Taluk Hospital following the death of Ningaraju.

Chamarajanagar, Nov. 30- An accused in the kidnapping case of a girl, who was being taken in a Police vehicle, jumped out of the vehicle in an attempt to escape, suffered serious injuries and succumbed to injuries at the hospital.

The incident took place between Yariyur and Maddur in the taluk yesterday and the public and the deceased family members staged a protest against the Police. The deceased has been identified as Ningaraju (24), a resident of Kuntur Mole village in Yalandur taluk.

A case of kidnapping a girl was registered against Ningaraju at Mamballi Police Station recently. The Police, who received information that the accused was in the village, arrived at the village, took accused Ningaraju into custody and were taking him to the Police Station for questioning.

But when the Police vehicle was passing between Yariyur and Maddur, accused Ningaraju, in a bid to escape from the Police, reportedly jumped out of the vehicle resulting in him sustaining serious injuries.

Though the Police rushed him to Yalandur Taluk Hospital, he (Ningaraju) succumbed to injuries there, it is learnt.

The family members of Ningaraju, who learnt about his death, rushed to the hospital and held the Police responsible for Ningaraju's death. They have accused the Police of killing Ningaraju by pushing him out of the vehicle and shouted slogans against the Police. The Police, who came to know that the situation may go out of control, deployed additional Police personnel at the hospital.

Senior Police officers are probing the incident and have questioned the Police personnel, who were bringing Ningaraju to the Police Station. Superintendent of Police (SP) T.P. Deletion of names from draft voters' list

Congress to petition Election Commission; demands investigation

Process carried out as per law: DC clarifies

Mysuru, Nov. 30 (SBD,MTY& BCT)- Following the allegation made by the Congress party that more than 1.45 lakh names had been deleted from the voters' list in Mysuru district, Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra has clarified that deletion of names from the draft voters' list has been carried out in a transparent manner and as per law.

"The names have been deleted from the voters' list only after submission of the stipulated application in Form 7, making a spot visit and a report from the booth-level officers," the DC clarified.

Addressing a press conference at the Congress Office yesterday, Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) Spokesperson H.A. Venkatesh alleged the names of around 1,45,903 voters in 11 Constituencies of Mysuru district have been deleted during the special summary revision of voters' list. "We demand an investigation by a Supreme Court Judge and will lodge a formal complaint with the Election Commission," he said.

Providing a break-up of the number of names deleted in each segment, he said that 10,604 names had been deleted from Krishnaraja Assembly Constituency, 16,242 from

Dr. K.V. Rajendra H.A. Venkatesh

Chamaraja, 18,007 from Narasimharaja, 11,987 from Varuna, 12,367 from T. Narasipur, 17,847 from Chamundeshwari, 17,856 from K.R. Nagar, 10,479 from H.D. Kote, 10,220 from Hunsur, 8,570 from Periyapatna and 11,724 names have been deleted from Nanjangud Assembly Constituency.

"The BJP wants to come back to power and they have removed the names of voters from backward class and minority communities, who are traditional Congress supporters," he said.

"Though there is a provision to delete the names of voters who had either died or had shifted their houses or for other purposes, the same should be mentioned in the remarks column alongside. The reason for the deletion should be mandatorily mentioned in the column. But here, the remarks column is empty", he claimed.

Duplication galore

Responding to the charges made by the Congress, the DC has stated in a media statement that a large number of names had been deleted from the draft voters' list this time because it was found that there were several names bearing the same kind of photograph and details.

"A total of 1,20,786 names had been deleted from the electoral rolls in Mysuru district. Of them, 80,930 names had been deleted as they bore the same photographs and details — similar entries with the same name, address and photo. 2,227 names have repeated and 20,440 persons have died. Also, 16,933 persons had shifted to a different place while 256 were deleted for other reasons," the release stated.

Additional DC Dr. B.S. Manjunathaswamy said that the District Administration has held meetings with political leaders of different parties as per procedure and informed them about the deletion of names. "So far, no political party has given any written objection over this," he added.

The draft electoral roll has been given to the leaders of all political parties. If there are any objections, they can make representations to the DC till Dec. 8.

As election season nears, Congress raises EVM issue

'Machines brought to Mysuru have raised doubts; open each EVM box for demo'

Mysuru, Nov. 30 (MTY&BCT)- Even as the Supreme Court recently dismissed a petition seeking directions for ruling out discrepancies in the Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs), the Mysuru District Congress has expressed doubts over the EVMs, Control Units and Ballot Units that have been recently brought to Mysuru from Hyderabad.

Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) Spokesperson M. Lakshmana told reporters at a press conference held at the Congress Office in city yesterday that over 5,635 Ballot Units and 3,958 Control Units have been brought to Mysuru recently from Electronic Corporation of India in Hyderabad.

"These machines that have not been used in any elections have been brought to Mysuru and this gives rise to suspicion, keeping in mind that thousands of voters have been dropped from the electoral rolls. While the Electronic Corporation of India has manufactured the machines, the contract of their maintenance has been given to a Mumbai-based private firm," he said.

"Why a private agency has been handed over the machine maintenance? This has led to a lot of suspicion. We demand that each EVM must be demonstrated in front of all political parties as the names of many voters have been deleted, we suspect a foul play. The District Administration must invite each political party and open every EVM box and demonstrate the usage and the way the voting is recorded. This will clear all doubts," Lakshmana said.

It is pertinent to note here that the Supreme Court recently dismissed a petition filed by the Madhya Pradesh Jan Vikas Party, seeking directions for ruling out discrepancies in the EVMs. Calling out the practice of filing petitions to gain publicity, a Bench headed by Justice S.K. Kaul also imposed a fine of Rs. 50,000 on the petitioners.

The Court observed that the election process under the Representation of the People Act is monitored by constitutional bodies like the Election Commission of India. "It appears that parties which may not have got much recognition from the electorate by reason of election process now seek to get recognition by filing petitions," the Bench recorded in its order.

Academic Council, Syndicate meetings to be live streamed

Bengaluru,Nov.30(Agencies)- On the occasion of 'Good Governance Month' in December, all Universities in the State should start live streaming of the Academic Council and Syndicate meetings on their social media channels from next month, said Higher Education and IT BT Minister Dr. C.N. Ashwathnarayan. Addressing a press meet here yesterday, he said that Higher Education Department has plans to introduce a slew of reforms to mark Good Governance Month and CM Basavaraj Bommai will inaugurate the programme on Dec. 1, he said.

Ashwathnarayan

The Minister noted that over the last three years, Dec. 25 has been celebrated as 'Good Governance Day' to commemorate the birth anniversary of late Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee. However, this year, the entire month will be observed as a Good Governance Month in the Departments of Higher Education, Electronics/IT-BT and Skill Development, Entrepreneurship and Livelihood, he added.

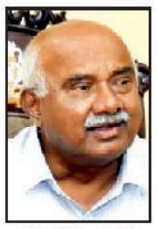
"Live streaming of meetings on social media will bring in transparency in the University's administration," he said. Universities have also been asked to upload all information on their websites by Dec. 10.

For constituent Colleges, which do not have their websites, they can upload the information on the University website, he added. The information will include student fee, funds sanctioned, ongoing projects and details of teaching and non-teaching staff.

"All the three Departments have charted out various programmes keeping the interest of students, entrepreneurs and various stakeholders in mind," he said. The State Government also mandates that Universities prepare an Institution Development Plan (IDP) for a period of five years. The State Higher Education Council will also be conducting a workshop on the same in the first week of December.

MLC demands CM to hand over Finance portfolio to another Minister

Mysuru, Nov. 30 (MTY&DM)- Alleging rampant corruption in the Finance Department, which portfolio is currently held by the Chief Minister, BJP MLC A.H. Vishwanath said that CM Basavaraj Bommai should hand over the portfolio to some other able member of his Cabinet.



Vishwanath

Addressing a press meet here recently, Vishwanath said that the CM currently holds as many as 8 to 10 portfolios, including the all important Finance portfolio. But the Finance Department is mired in corruption under his very nose, he maintained and demanded that the portfolio be handed over to another Minister for better administration.

Citing the example of neighbouring Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu, which have a separate Finance Minister, the MLC reminded that even our very own D. Devaraj Urs could not handle the portfolio and gave it to one of his Cabinet colleagues.

Alleging that rampant corruption is going on in the Commercial Tax Department as well, he said he was opposed to the imposition of a high GST even for tobacco products, which has led to their smuggling. It is a matter of concern that the Finance and Commercial Tax Departments, which are the major source of revenue earnings, have become centres of corruption, he added.

Referring to the controversy surrounding education in the State, Vishwanath regretted the attempts to saffronise education. "As a Primary Education Minister in the S.M. Krishna Cabinet, I had introduced 'Samudayadatta Shaale' initiative aimed at reaching out to the public, when an entire team of officials would stay in a village or town. But now attempts are being made to saffronise education," he said while questioning what purpose would be served by painting Viveka classrooms in saffron colour.

Referring to the appointment of Vice-Chancellors (VCs) to Universities, he said that 9 new Universities are being set up in the State. Claiming that a situation has arose where an aspirant has to give Rs. 5 crore for appointment as a VC, the MLC said that this will lead to rampant corruption in higher education. He demanded that the Government should withdraw the powers given to VCs regarding appointments and construction of buildings, which are the sources for corruption.

Mysterious death of KREDL Officer

Police seek FSL help to crack case

Mysuru, Nov. 30 (RK&KS)- Saraswathipuram Police, who are investigating the death of Karnataka Renewable Energy Development Limited (KREDL) Officer D.K. Dinesh Kumar (50), who had died under mysterious circumstances at his residence near Nirmithi Kendra in Bogadi 2nd Stage here, have now decided to probe the case through technical and scientific investigations.

Dinesh Kumar

According to the statements given by Dinesh's wife and younger son, all the three had their dinner on Sunday (Nov. 27) night and slept. When she and her son got up the next morning, they found Dinesh in an unconscious state and they too fell unconscious. The workers at Dinesh's house shifted Dinesh to a private hospital, where the doctors declared him dead.

The body was then shifted to MMC&RI mortuary and the doctors who examined the body opined that the death may have taken place about one-and-a-half days ago. The body was decomposing, bloated and blood had oozed out from the mouth.

Dinesh's maternal uncle Narayan, suspecting foul play, had lodged a complaint in this regard asking the Police to enquire Dinesh's wife, son and workers. The Police at present have registered a case under Section 174-c of the CrPC, but no case has been registered under any IPC Sections.

On Nov. 26 night, Dinesh, who left for his home from Surya Bakery Circle in Hebbal, met a few people on the way and reached home. Except for this statement in Narayan's complaint, there is no information about anyone meeting Dinesh later. Hence the Police have decided to probe the case through technical and scientific investigation.

The Police are awaiting the post-mortem report and samples from Dinesh's body have been sent to the Forensic Science Laboratory (FSL). Police sources said that the report from the FSL would help the Police in the investigation.

Post-mortem was conducted yesterday and the body was handed over to the family members. Last rites were performed by Dinesh's elder son at Doddapalya village in Srirangapatna taluk yesterday evening, according to family sources.

Brindavan Gardens to open

Despite many efforts by the Forest Department including combing operations and clearing of bushes at entry points from the forest side, the leopard had remained elusive.

Both the Forest Department and the CNNL were under pressure to reopen the tourist attraction and were subjected to intense criticism by both the public and elected representatives. They had feared that if the Dam remained closed for long duration, its reputation would be harmed and it would be tough to win back tourists.

As a last resort, the Forest Department was planning to apprise the Mandya District Administration with a detailed report about the efforts to trap the leopard and leave the decision of reopening the Brindavan Gardens to the Deputy Commissioner.

But a decision was taken this morning to open the Dam from today as the leopard was not spotted in the last 20 days except for a CCTV image where the feline was found near the North Gate trying to catch a porcupine.

The cabling works at circles and junctions are a roadblock as trenches have to be dug to lay cables.

"Instead of digging cables, we are using a hole-boring method with machines to lay underground cables. As a temporary arrangement, we have drawn overhead lines to be ready for the inauguration and the lights will glow in all stretches. Drilling holes will be taken up in the next phase," Mahesh added.

The project to illuminate the Ring Road was launched on Aug. 15, 2022 and as per the agreement reached between the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) and Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), the latter will fund the project to lay wires and fix LED lights and sanction Rs. 12 crore while the MCC will maintain them.

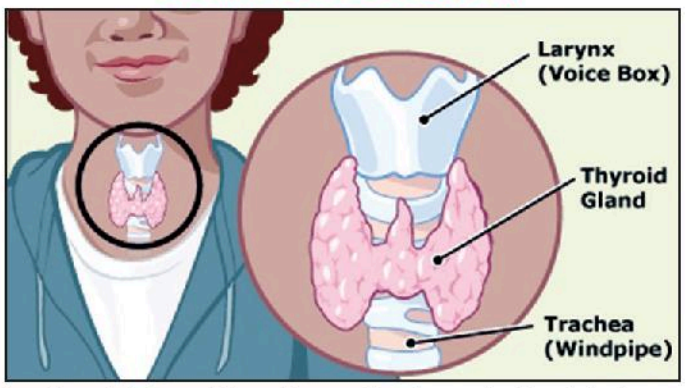
Get rid of Thyroid swelling without surgery



Thyroid Grand is a butterfly shaped gland in base of neck and plays a vital role in metabolism. Thyroid nodules are abnormal over growth of tissue in the Thyroid gland and are commonly noticed. It is seen in about 8.5 percent in Indian population and is more common in females.

Dr. Shailesh Shivraj Pene, Senior Consultant, Department of Imaging and Interventional Radiology at Narayana Multispeciality Hospital, Mysuru, throws light on Thyroid nodules, symptoms, diagnosis and its treatment in the article.

Are Thyroid nodules serious?

No. Most of the Thyroid nodules are not serious and many are non-cancerous in nature. However, small percent of Thyroid swelling (nodules) are cancerous in nature. So early diagnosis and treatment of Thyroid cancers is of utmost importance.

What are the symptoms of Thyroid nodules?

Most of the Thyroid nodules do not cause major problems. In symptomatic individuals it causes neck pain, foreign body sensation, cough and discomfort. It may be a cosmetic issue in many individuals.

What are the risk factors for developing Thyroid nodules?

Iodine deficiency, family history, being female, old age group and history of radiation exposure are some of the risk factors.

How Thyroid nodules are diagnosed?

It can be diagnosed through blood tests (abnormal Thyroid functions), ultra sonography and sometimes by Thyroid scan. Neck ultra sonography is the best and easy tool to identify Thyroid swelling (nodules).

What is the treatment for Thyroid swellings (nodules)?

Conventionally, Thyroid nodules were treated by medication and surgery. Surgery can cause scar formation, wound infection and hypo functioning of Thyroid gland.

With the latest development of Thermal Ablative techniques such as Microwave Ablation (MWA), many Thyroid nodules can be treated safely with minimal complications and good outcome.

What is Microwave Ablation and how is this procedure done?

Microwave ablation is a thermal heating technique that utilises electromagnetic micro waves thus killing the cells is Thyroid nodule. Normal functioning cells are not affected by this procedure. This procedure is done on out-patient basis under local anaesthesia and under ultra sound guidance. A small needle is introduced under ultra sound guidance into the Thyroid nodule and is heated with the help of Microwave Ablation, under direct vision of ultra sound. Microwave Ablation achieves shrinkage of the nodule and relieves the symptoms.

Treated patients can be discharged on the same day of procedure and they can resume his/her activities very soon. No scar mark is visible on the neck after the procedure. No abnormal functioning of Thyroid are seen.

We at Narayana Multi-speciality Hospital offer this novel and innovative technique of Microwave Ablation for treating Thyroid nodules. We are the only centre in this region lending this novel and safe technique for treating Thyroid lumps.

Many patients are treated by this technique on day care basis at our hospital and discharged on the same day.

Hybrid workshop on "Egg-based value-added products" at CFTRI

Mysuru, Nov. 30- CSIR-Central Food Technological Research Institute (CFTRI), Mysuru — a constituent laboratory of Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR), under Department of Science and Technology, Government of India, is organising a hybrid workshop on "Egg-based value-added products - Processing, Packaging and Preservation" under CSIR Integrated Skill Initiative on Dec.9 from 9.30 am to 5.30 pm.

Chicken egg is one of the leading livestock productions in India. India ranks third in the world hen eggs production and produced 5.7 MT of eggs in 2019. Even though India is the leading producer of hen eggs in the world, the annual consumption is about 86 eggs per person against a global average of about 161 eggs per person as on 2018-19.

Most eggs are served as fresh table eggs and any processed/ ready-to-eat products of eggs are truly uncommon in India. Eggs are highly perishable and have limited shelf-life which need to be marketed immediately or processed into value-added products. This hybrid workshop will create awareness for the value addition of egg-based products that would enhance the value and use of eggs to supplement human nutrition which will improve the sustainability and socio-economic development of the egg industry, poultry farmers and stakeholders.

The key topics of the workshop will be Eggs composition, nutrition, consumption and human health; Value-added egg products; Egg-based beverage and health food products; Chill food technology for egg-based snacks; Start-up opportunities in egg-based value products; Food Safety standards and regulation in egg processing etc.

This skill development workshop will be suitable for budding entrepreneurs, micro-entrepreneurs, start-ups, SHGs and entrepreneur aspirants who are interested on egg-based value-added products.

Those interested may register online at https://www.cftri.res.in/sdp by Dec.4.

WORD OF THE DAY

Perennial

Pronunciation: puh-ren-ee-uhl.
Meaning: Perpetual; everlasting; recurrent.
Origin: Perennial, "perpetual, continuing," comes from Latin perennis, "lasting the whole year through," which is based on per, "through, by," and -enn-, a combining form of annus, "year." A common trend in Latin is for a to change to e or i in compounds; other examples of this include ars, "skill," becoming iners, "unskillful" (compare art and inert), and amīcus, "friend," becoming inimicus, "unfriendly". Perennial is often confused with annual because the two have similar meanings and origins. Perennial was first recorded in English circa 1640.
Example: A key feature of the lands north of the Arctic Circle is its nearly perennial winter, with cold temperatures even in July.

THE ODD WORD

Pallasethesia

Sense of vibration.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Pass the buck

Meaning: To 'pass the buck' is to evade responsibility by passing it on to someone else.
Origin: Look up 'buck' in the dictionary and you'll find a couple of dozen assorted nouns, verbs and adjectives. The most common use of the word these days is as the slang term for the American dollar. That's not the buck that's passed here though. Look a little further down the list and you'll find the definition 'buck: an article used in a game of poker' - and that's the buck that was first passed. Poker became very popular in America during the second half of the 19th century. Players were highly suspicious of cheating or any form of bias and there's considerable folklore depicting gunslingers in shoot-outs based on accusations of dirty dealing. In order to avoid unfairness the deal changed hands during sessions. The person who was next in line to deal would be given a marker. This was often a knife, and knives often had handles made of buck's horn - hence the marker becoming known as a buck. When the dealer's turn was done he 'passed the buck'. Silver dollars were later used as markers and some have speculated that this is the origin of the use of buck as a slang term for dollar, although there's no real evidence to support that. The earliest citation that one can find of the literal use of the phrase in print is from the Weekly New Mexican, July 1865: They draw at the commissary, and at poker after they have passed the 'buck'.

Don't blame the marketing department. The buck stops with the chief executive. —John D. Rockefeller

Sunpure launches maiden e-commerce platform for online purchase

- South India's largest edible oil brand provides easy access to its wide range of products via online purchase and home delivery services — first in Mysuru.
- Guaranteed delivery of fresh products within three hours of online purchase; exclusive 'Product Combo Offer' available only for purchases through Sunpure's new e-commerce website.

Mysuru, Nov. 30 (KS)- Sunpure, South India's largest edible oil brand, has launched its maiden e-commerce website www.mysunpure.in to provide easy access to its wide range of products. Currently, the online purchase and home delivery services are available in Mysuru and there are plans to expand Sunpure's online services to all markets across Karnataka in 2023.

This is the first time in the history of the edible oil and food industry of India that a company has facilitated direct purchase of its products from the comfort of the consumers' homes. Another Unique Selling Proposition (USP) of this e-commerce initiative is the guaranteed delivery of fresh products, within three hours of the online purchase.

An exclusive 'Product Combo Offer' is available only for purchases through Sunpure's new e-commerce website. Sunpure offers never-before deals on 'Sunpure Sunflower oil, Sunpure Filtered Groundnut Oil, Sunpure Rice Bran Health, Sunpure Palmpure (imported refined palmolein oil), Sunpure Sugar (refined via a sulphur-free process) and Sunpure swaad (whole wheat atta produced using Swiss technology)'.

Sharing the company's vision behind the newly launched e-commerce platform, Gokaran, General Manager (Sales and Operations) of MK Agrotech said, "As the manufacturers of the most revolutionary refined Sunflower oil in India, we have witnessed overwhelming love from our consumers for more than two decades now. In keeping with the changing times and evolving consumer needs, Sunpure's e-commerce platform is a pioneering endeavour to deepen our customer bond and carry forward the brand's legacy of bringing together technology and tradition. The future looks exciting."

Sunpure has the distinction of being India's only chemical-free processed and physically refined oil with an improved patented technology. Sunpure Oil is free from harmful preservatives, like tertiary butylhydroquinone (TBHQ) commonly used in food products, and is also enriched with Vitamins A, D and E.

Sunpure uses RO treated water for refining process and uses 100% green electricity generated by windmills, producing eight times more power than it consumes.

Last year, Sunpure had appointed actor and philanthropist Sonu Sood as its brand ambassador. The brand's marketing campaigns have consistently reiterated its core values of purity, trust, care and honesty.

Currently, Sunpure is present in Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra and Kerala.
